Report on QoS Parameters related to Congestion on Point of Interconnections (POIs) of CMSPs

With the exponential increase in the number of subscribers every month, the congestion level at the POIs in the inter Operators networks continues to be the major reason for poor quality of service in the mobile networks.

As per the TRAI's "Regulation on Quality of Service of Basic and Cellular Mobile Telephone Services, 2005", the benchmark for POIs congestion should be less than 0.5 %. But it is observed that the performance of all the mobile operators with respect to the Congestion on POIs has increasingly deteriorated.

The network congestion report of all CMSPs for the month of September 2005 is placed below along with a comparison of the previous two months.

From the perusal of the report, the following observation emerges:

- 1. In a number of big and small cities, the level of congestion between the networks of different operators is far more than the prescribed benchmark and the number of such places are increasing. This is mainly due to delay in augmentation of inter network junctions. The TRAI has also issued directions on 29th November 2005 to all Cellular Mobile Service Providers to ensure, by 31st December 2005, that the Quality of Service parameters, including the level of POI congestion, in its network should be strictly within the benchmark laid down by the Authority.
- 2. In the month of August 2005, there were about 244 POIs, which were not meeting the benchmark of <0.5 % where as in the month of September 2005, the same has increased to 394.
- 3. In the month of August 2005, there were about 153 places having congestion level more than 10% i.e. twenty times worse than the benchmark. In September 2005, the number of such places has increased to 193 and in about 72 out of such locations the level of such congestions is 40 % or more.
- 4. In some of the major cities viz. Patna, Agra and Lucknow, Jaipur, Chennai and Meerut, the level of congestion between the networks of the different operators continues to be very high since last few months.

The network congestion report of all CMSPs for the month of September 2005 is placed at TRAI website (www.trai.gov.in) along with a comparison with the previous two months.
